Summary

I'm a passionate and driven Computer Engineering student currently pursuing my degree, with a strong foundation in C++, JavaScript, and experience in React.js. I'm fascinated by the intersection of technology, design, and innovation, and I love turning ideas into real, working projects.

Over time, I have:
• Built front-end web apps with responsive UI & modern JS features
• Developed projects that focus on real-world user experience
• Been an active contributor in college clubs like Sambhav Club and CSI Club

When I'm not coding, I enjoy exploring new technologies, solving algorithm challenges, and collaborating on open source.
